Digitise relevant aspects of the City and showing famous sights students explored on the project

Learning method: Austrian and Turkish students will collaborate in an Erasmus project to explore the city together. They will document their experiences and findings, working as a team to create a YouTube video that showcases the project's outcomes. This activity will involve planning, filming, and editing, culminating in a digital presentation of their joint efforts and discoveries.

Learning outcomes: Through this project, students will enhance their teamwork and collaboration skills by working with peers from different cultural backgrounds. They will develop technical competencies in video production, including planning, filming, and editing. Additionally, students will improve their ability to communicate and present information effectively, creating a comprehensive and engaging YouTube video to showcase their project outcomes.
